

Hull and East Yorkshire Combined Authority

Policy Sprint – Initial read-out

Covering...

What we did

Initial
conclusions

Next steps

Covering...

What we did

Initial
conclusions

Next steps

Reminder - purpose of the sprint

- Time-limited process to co-design strategic priorities, informed by evidence, expertise, and practical insight
- Uses structured facilitation, expert input, and collaborative working
- Rather than working sequentially through draft documents and discussion, policy makers can align in real time, test ideas together, and identify solutions
- Particularly valuable in a resource-constrained system like HEYCA, and when developing multiple strategies in parallel
- Investing time upfront to co-design strategy lays the foundations for sustained, joined-up delivery.
- This is the start of the collaboration and consultation – not the end

Day 1

- Heard from the Mayor about his vision and priorities
- Got an overview of the HEYCA strategic framework
- Learned about the economic context from Professor Fiona Matthews
- Considered the lived experience of residents with Dr Juan Pablo Winter
- Developed our own prosperity vision and indicators of success
- Heard about the impact of technology from Professor Rob Dover
- Discussed and developed Local Growth Plan priorities
- Helped shape the agenda for day 2
- Heard from reflections from Kersten England about the importance of leadership in combined authority systems

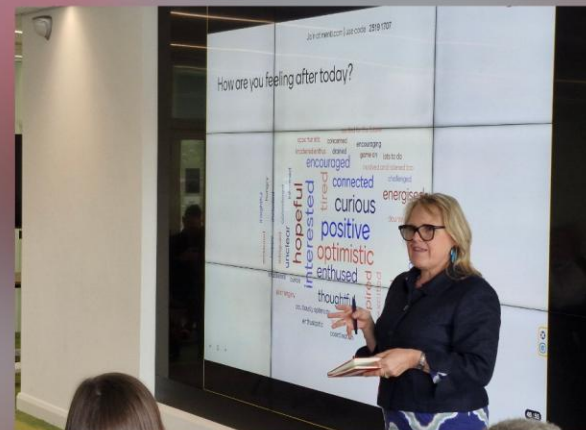

How are you feeling after today?

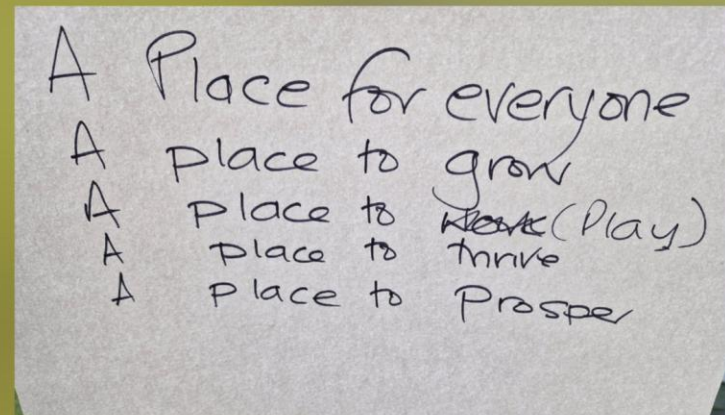

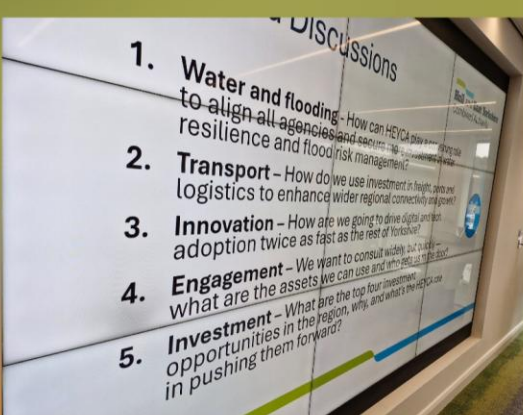

Day 2

- Explained how we'd developed the structure for discussions
- Heard about the Work and Skills Strategy and discussed and prioritised opportunities for the region
- Learned about the Get Britain Working plan and discussed and prioritised opportunities to work better to reduce health related barriers to employment
- Took a deep dive into some key themes – flooding, transport, innovation, engagement and investment
- Agreed we all wanted to do this again at the right time 😊

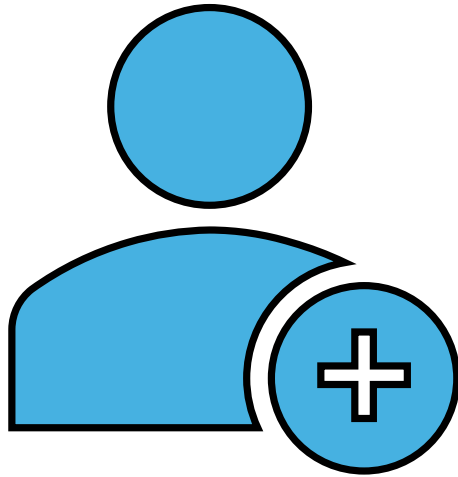

Covering...

What we did

Initial
conclusions

Next steps

1

This wasn't just a workshop
– it should be the start of a new way of working

2

Lots of insight, lots of validation and no shocks is a good result

3

There is a space and a need for a strategic conversation about health in the region

4

Our investment pipeline needs work – from assets and barriers to market
facing propositions

5

We need a narrative intervention – from end of the line to start of the story

Covering...

What we did

Initial
conclusions

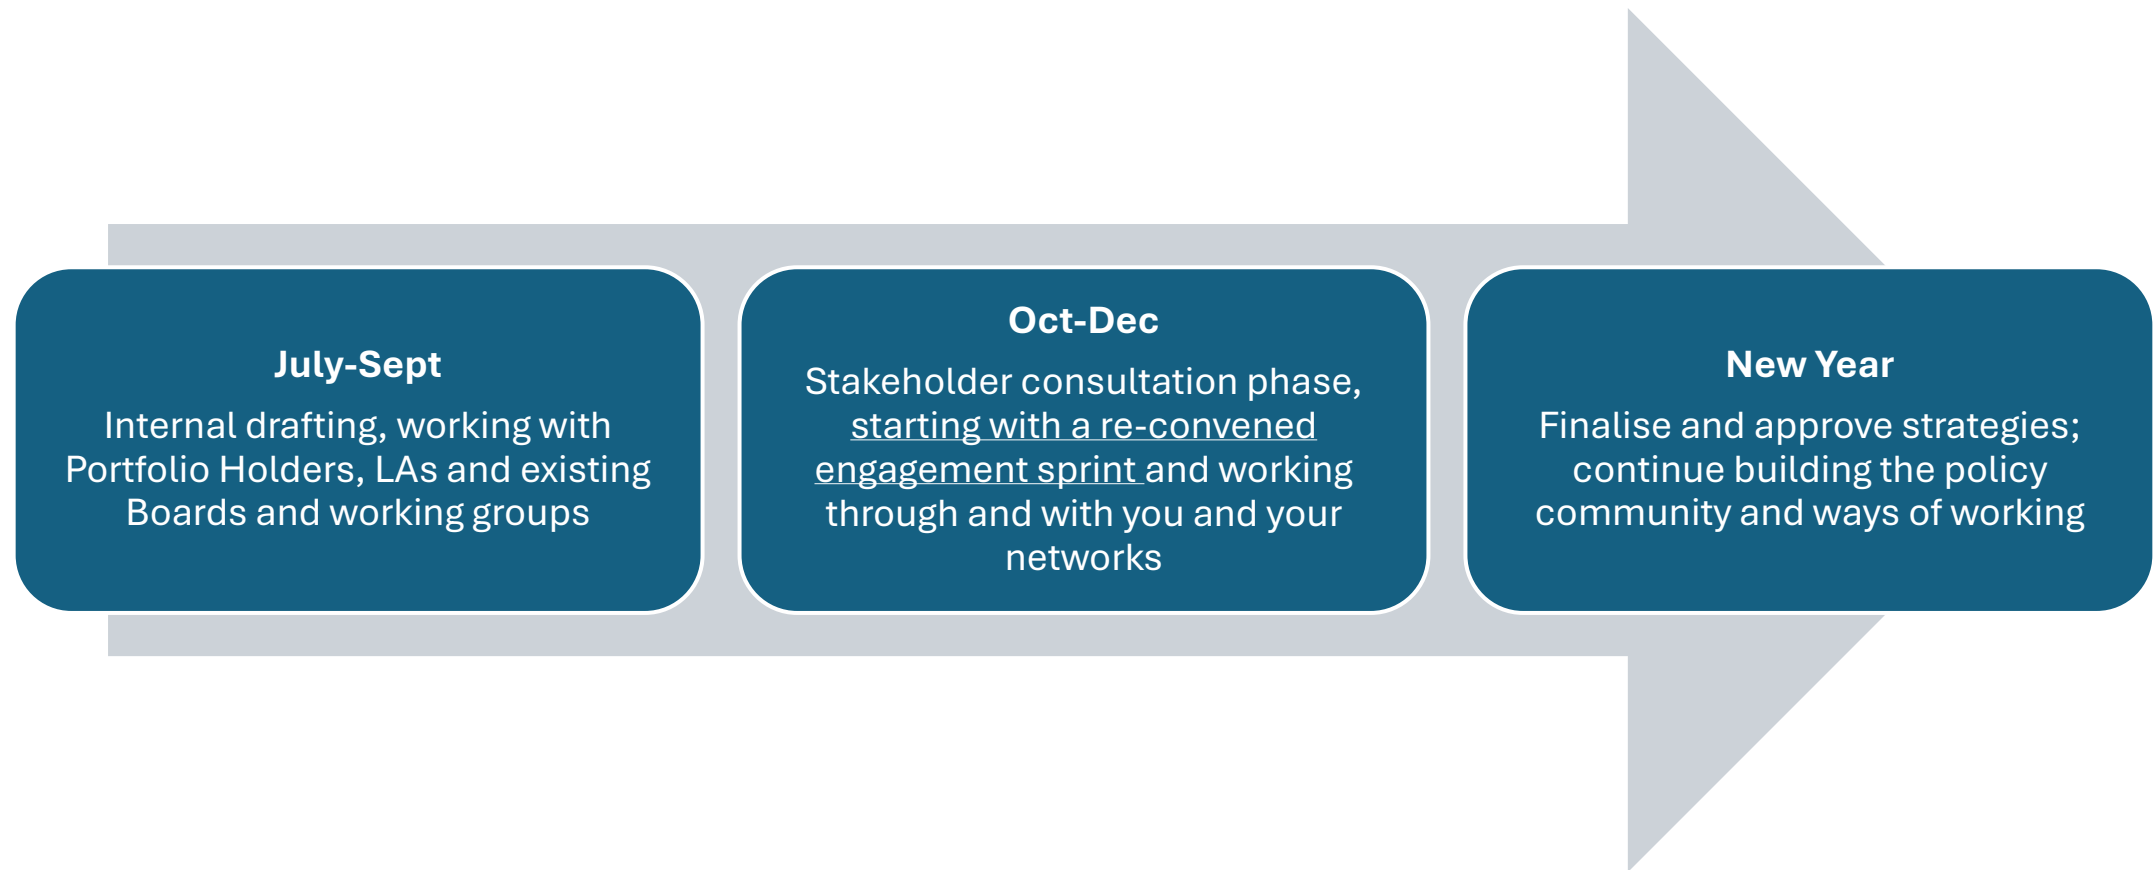

Next steps

Immediate actions

- Filing the photos, writing up outputs and collecting our thoughts about specific insights and discussions
- Share the full set of slides
- Agree and share specific dates and for progressing each of the four key strategies
- Confirm how best to crowdsource a stakeholder engagement directory
- Kick off some work on LGP pipeline development

High-level timescales

Portfolios

- Work collaboratively with other Portfolio Holders
- Support strategic alignment across HEYCA's work
- Report regularly to the Mayor and Board
- Portfolios reviewed annually

Portfolio	Portfolio Lead
Mayor's Portfolio Fit and Healthy	Luke Campbell
Investment	Anne Handley
Transport	David Tucker
Skills	Mike Ross
Housing	Jackie Dad